BIOGRAPHICAL NOTE:

Three Armentrout brothers, sons of Phillip Armentrout, II came as emigrants to America in 1739 and they were naturalized in Philadelphia, PA. The oldest, who was 22 years old, settled at Reading, PA. John and Henry joined emigrants from New York and PA and came to Virginia and stopped at Bridgewater, VA. Henry was 18 years old and married a German woman by the name of Rush and settled on Collier's Creek, near Collierstown, VA.

Russell Armentrout's grandfather, George Smith Armentrout settled in a county carved from Augusta County called Greater Bath County and later Alleghany County. He kept a tavern or stage stop on Lexington-Covington Turnpike in an old sandstone house that was built around 1775 by Andrew Elder.
